So I thought my hair would be blowing all over the place, because we have about 10,000 people. And it's an amazing thing that's happening. It's an amazing thing that's happening all over the country. And for a while, as you know, they were saying, Trump won't run. There's no way he's beginning to run. Why would he run? He's not beginning to run. Some people said, why would I run? Because I have a nice life. I have a great company. It's just things are sort of easy. And other people said oh, he'll never want to show his financials. Or he'll never want to do this or that. He'll never run.

I go to Saudi Arabia, I go to Dubai; I am doing big jobs in Dubai. I go to various different places. I go to China. They are building a bridge on every corner. They have bridges that make the George Washington Bridge like small time stuff. They're building the most incredible things you have ever seen. They are building airports in Qatar--which they like to say "cutter" but I've always said "qatar" so I'll keep it "qatar" what the hell.
