PRODUCTS

Our first product, HIGHWATER VODKA, is a naturally gluten-free, crisp, clean and velvety spirit crafted from Wyoming farmed corn and oats. Enjoy it as it is, simply poured over ice, or blended into your favorite cocktail. Sure to inspire dreams of the wide open spaces, mountain peaks, and river valleys that make us love this great state of Wyoming.

TRAV & CHAS

Good friends, owners, and partners Chas Marsh and Travis Goodman are passionate about creating the highest quality grain-to-glass craft spirits, capturing the hard work ethic of the western frontier into every bottle they produce. Each small batch is produced by hand at Jackson Hole Still Works starting from local Wyoming-sourced grains and crisp mountain water. They want to make sure you are enjoying their products as much as they enjoyed making them. Feel free to drop us a line, call us, tweet us, post on our facebook page. We would love to hear from you and what you think!
